We need not go out of Victoria to find inthis evil, and to throw the aegis of the law's protection around married women who have been thus unfortunate in their matrimouial connections, that Mr. Beaven has introduced the bill under consideration. The bill asks nothing, to our comtion. The bill asks nothing, to our comprehension, that is unfair either toward Binding and Ruling done. R. T. WILLIAMS. individuals or the general public. But let any one take an unbiased view of the question, and weigh it fairly without prejudice one way or the other, and we think he will come to the conclusion that the bill spon the whole is a good one, and that it should receive the sanction of the House. It is not by any means a one-sided measure, extending protection only to wives; but it aims as well to protect the interests of hasbands, where the law now exposes them to loss and inconvenience by legal process for the recovery of debts contracted by wives prior to the date of marriage. While the bill provides that the real estate of any married woman, which is owned by her at the time of her marriage, or acquired in any manner during her coverture, and the rents, issues, and profits thereof respectively, as well as all the wages and per-sonal earnings acquired by her, shall be inalienable by her husband and not be liable for his debts; it also provides that

FIRST PARLIAMENT OF BRITISH COLUMBIA. Second Session.

Tuesday, January 14, 1873. The House met at 2 p. m. Hon. members were all present.

PRIVILEGE. Mr. Smithe rose to a question of privilege o correct a report published in the Colonist of to-day, with regard to a question of privi lege. It left an impression that he (Mr. nithe) was out of order, and he had no wish that such should go abroad. Mr. Bunster-What paper is that? the

Mr. Duck also rose to a question ; he, too had been misreported in the Colonist, with regard to the quarantine resolution of yester RESERVES.

Hon. Chief Commissioner laid before the House a return of Government reserves. Ordered printed.

STANDING ORDERS.

Mr. McCreight presented a report of the Committee on Standing Orders, in favor of a modification of the Standing Orders,—to be made this session. It was signed by five members of the committee. Report received.

NOTICES OF MOTION DISCUSSION.

Again a warm discussion arose as to the proper order with regard to presenting notices of motion. [Our reporter would suggest, in order to get over the difficulty, that bon gentlemen send their notices to the re porter's table—the STANDARD.]
It was finally decided that Notices come

Hon. Mr. DeCosmos remarked that the House was scarcely pursuing the usual course. He took it for granted that the Bill was a public one. Mr. McCreight quoted authority in support of his view that the Bill was a private

Mr. Barnston was satisfied that the Bill should go through the usual course.

Mr. Robson said the regular course to pur sue in this case was to suspend the Rules and Orders ; it was obvious the Bill could not be advertised for two months. Mr. Duck suggested that the Amendment to his F re Protection Bill be taken up at the same time.

The Standing Orders were suspended on der that the Bill be read a second time. Several members considered the proceed-

GOAL COMMISSION.

Mr. Rebson moved the following resolution : That an humble Address be presented to His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor, asking that the report of the Commission appointed last Session, to enquire into the con-dition of the Victoria Gaoi, together with a statement showing how far the recommendations of said report have been, or are about to be, complied with, may be sent down to Seconded by Mr. Duck and carried. WILD LAND TAX.

Mr. Smithe deferred moving the House into committee on the Wild Land Tax Bill. STANDING ORDERS.

Mr. McCreight moved that during this session that Rule No. 48 of the Standing Orders should be modified, in view of the delay of appointment of the Committee, so as to allow of Private Bills being presented to the House Session, and so as to allow of Reports of Select Committees on Private Bills being received until the lapse of the first seren weeks of the Session

By the Rules Private Bills hitherto hal to be presented within the first three weeks of the sessi n; the report had to be made within four weeks. Seconded by Mr. Booth.

Mr. Holbrook coincided with the member for Nanaimo. It was a dangerous matter to be altering from time to time the system of trade of the Province. Mr. Baruston was opposed to both resolu-tion and amendment There were industries than either the agricultural or the manufacturing.

Mr. Smith looked on the whole thing as out of order. It was purely a Federal matter, and be believed something of the kind as here intended would come up in the Dominion Legislature this session. Mr. Robson moved an amendment to con sider the question in Committee of the Whole. Mr. Robson believed that nothing would come of the matter.

The Speaker said Mr. Bunster's resolution was withdrawn. Mr. Bunster declined to withdraw the reso-Mr. Holbrook seconded Mr. Robson's amendment. The original resolution was lost. The amendment of Hon. Mr. DeCosmos was also lost.

The Speaker said the only question nov was reduced to the word "that. Mr. Rebson's amendment which was substance similar to the resolution, namely to consider the question in Committee of the Hon. Mr. Beaven moved the second reading of the Married Women's Property Bill. It was not a Government Bill, it was in force in the other Provinces. It was intro duced to protect the property of married women as against their busbands. A provision was inserted to make life insurance in tleman explained the remainder of the Bill The 8th clause provides that a husband should not be liable for the debts of his wife before marriage.

The second reading was seconded by Hon Mr. Armstrong.
Mr. Robson could not quite approve some of the provisions of the Bill. As a rule

Mr. Robson continued to the effect tha they proposed by the Bill to establish twoauthorities in the same household. I beld up a sort of premium to the wife to commi acts of insubordination. It might be properly entitled, an Act to promote and to protect bachelordom. He admitted there were instances where a wife required protection It looked too much, and savored of "Wo-men's Rights." This was calculated to revolutionize the whole household system,

Mr. Booth supported the spirit of the bill. to property as any other partners. He would give the measure his hearty support.

Mr. Smith said the que tion was a glorious one and that in many cases the woman was the best man of the two as regarded married folks. The bill in reading it put bim in mind Mr. Robson asked the Honorable the Pro- of a writer on Woman's Rights, when be said that what belonged to the husband be-bill could not account for this. What a gay scene it would be to witness ladies, on Change, bobbing around in their Dolly become public contractors, and [would have their husbands at their feet, soliciting a jeb as choppers or graders; that was all rich in the extreme, yet although there were some sweeping clauses in the hill, he supposed it would be modified in Committee. He there > his better half. Mr. Holbrook thought that the Bill was to his conscience if he supported it

Mr. Humphreys had perused the bill care that Cariboo and Nanaimo, only, wou'd fully, he greatly regretted the last hon. speareturn members to this House, who would ker had not done the same. It simply enabled not support the modification of the tariff; not the married woman to retain as her own pro demanded it. He produced the number of vessels which left San Francisco last year with supplies for this place.

The country anything she might have possessed previous to her marriage. He noticed that the English papers were constantly crowded with cases of cruelty from husband towards wife. with supplies for this place.

Mr. DeCosmos would move an amendment, which he believed would meet the views of the hon. igentleman, vis., that the question be referred to a Select Committee, to report to the House. The business would be done to the House. The business would be done in better shape. bands of questionable character. If the bill would remedy these evils surely it was sufficient credit to the hon. mover in this bill that such was the case. He did not believe in the unlimited credit that tradesmen were in the babit of giving tamilies, for it was only placing a tax upon this country and others for the support of judges who were obliged to be employed to settle the debts of the various parties in question. He believed the bi'l to all the support it so well deserved. [Hear,

Mr. Bunster wished he could agree with the hon, speaker who had just taken his seat. Seconded by Mr. Booth.

Mr. Robson opposed the amendment, until did not think it west far enough. He opposed the opinion of the House should be had on to the clause allowing the wife to insure her the opinion as to the desirability of husbands life, and on several other points he He did not mean to oppose the bill, but he thought it was made inadequate to the wants of the time and country.

A vote was thee taken, and the House went-into a Committee of the Whole for the second reading of the bill, Mr. Smithe in the Chair The two first sections passed unopposed. Mr. Holbrook objected to line 3, Section :

alluding to the insurance of a husbands life by the wife. He thought it placed the wife in this district of much more importance in a too powerful position, and the permission of such an action would certainly lead to a jealousy on the part of the man, for fear that with some occult motive she might be insuring his life and attempt secretly to hasten his death. A Voice "You don't know what women

re." [Great laughter.]
The lion. Premier, Mr. Humphreys, and the on. Chief Commissioner supported the clause as it stood.

Mr. Bunster did not like the clause at all, and he thought that the insurance should be for the benefit of the woman's children, not for herself. He would therefore move that the words "for her sole benefit" be struck out The Hon Mr. Armstrong thought it was a mere matter of detail in filling up the policy of insurance, and could all be arranged pro or con by the parties interested.

This amendment with other trivial altera-ions, on motion, were lost, and the clause passed as it stood. Section 4 was a matter of some discussion, and Mr. McCreight proposed an amendment that the words from "will" on line 1, page 2 up to the words "leaving no widow," be

The hon, Chief Commissioner explained the purport of the clause as it stood; he said it provided for the occurrence of the death of husband without a will, and it was cer tainly presumable that a widow was a "fit Company's Water Bill. Board of Delegates.

A regular monthly meeting of the Board o Delegates of the Pire Department was held last evening. The following communication was received from the Chief Engineer, but owing to the lack of funds, its consideration was deferred :-

To the President and Members of the Board of Delegates :

GENTLEMEN: I take great pleasure in stating to you that the new carbolized bose has given entire satisfaction, so far as I have tested it. With a water pressure of 188 lbs. to the square inch, and 130 lbs. of steam from the steam Tiger fire engine; the hose was perfectly dry, and without the least sign of sweating, and it is my belief that the hose is all that it is represented to be. I therefor take pleasure in recommending that the Department purchase at least 1000 feet of this hose, which I think will greatly add to its Respectfully yours, Wm. Losun, efficiency.

Chief Engineer, V.F.D. At the recommendation of the Chief, the Board engaged the services of Mr. Alexander Hendry, a professional engineer, for the sua good one, and he would most certainly give it pervision of the department engines. A large amount of business was transacted, and the Board adjourned at a late hour.

ARRIVED FROM SAN FRANCISCO.-The bar Ava arrived at Pedder Bay on Monday night, bound for Nanaimo, from San Francisco. During the high winds which were blowing on that night, she drove away from her an-chorage to Foul Bay, and a boat which had been first sent off to get a tug to pilot her up to Nanaimo, could not make out where she had gone to; they rowed shout a consider-able time, and finally put into the lighthouse and arrived at Esquimait harbor last night. The Ava is all right now, at anchor in Fou Bay, and will proceed to-day to her destina-tion, the steamer [sabel towing her up.

American Powers. (From the N. Y. Herald of December 24th) WASHINGTON, Dec. 23rd .- The representaives of the South American Republics at Washington have received from the newspapers the first intimation of the official corresof Columbia and San Salvador, proposing that a coalition be formed against Spain by the South American Republics and the United States in order to force that power to relinquish the Ever Faithful Isle This correspondence includes a suggestion that a money indemnity be offered to Spain for the surreuder of Cuba, and that negotiations be initia-ted to that effect through the representatives of the South American Governments at Washington. It would seem strange that these envoys bave received no official information on

Says he was greatly surprised when he saw the idea of the coalition first mooted in the Herald and that he has no advices relating to it from his Government, though instructions for him tallying with the tenor of the published correspondence are probably under way. The representative of San Salvador has been absent from this city for several days and it seems that he is no better informed than his colleague aforesaid. Mr. Frere, the cautious Minister of Peru and Bolivia, told your correspondent that he had heard Columb a had addressed circulars to all the South American Republics with regard to Cuba, but he did not know bow the matter had been treatd by them. He did not think his Government would enter into such a coalition as proposed by Columbia.

Had given belligerent rights to the Cubans, but more she would not and could not do. When the allied Republice, Peru and Bolivia Chile and Ecuador, were engaged in hostili-ties aginst Spain the recognition of the Cuban patriots as belligerents was a war measure in order to weaken their common enemy, Spain Frere' speaking of his own Government thinks that Peru is not in a situation to enter into any negotiations with regard to Cuba. The attitude of his Government toward Spain must remain severely neutral until a treaty of peace is made, or the present armistice expires. Peru could not enter into friend y negotiations with Spain, nor could she resume bostilities against that power as long as the armistice is in force. Mr. Gonzalez, the d'Affaires of Chile, says that he has heard nothing from his Government with regard to negotiations to free Cub
